MAKES VALUABLE FIND.

HONOLULU, Oct. 17.—Arch-varian Lydecker has made another interesting find while delving in the dusty nooks and crannies of the Capitol for old documents. He found in the closets of the Governor's office a number of old books dating from 1844 until 1889, in which the names of those who called on the sovereigns, who sat on the throne of Hawaii during that period, have been inscribed, in most cases by the callers themselves. A more interesting collection of old autographs it would be hard to find. Mixed among the names of prominent kaomainas who died long ago, but whose names are still familiar to the generation today, one finds the signatures of various celebrated persons from the outer world, who happened to pass by Honolulu many years ago.

The first of these books was started in 1844, the first entry being:
"George Brown, Esq., United States Commissioner, to pay his respects to His Majesty on his coming to Honolulu."

This is followed by: "R. C. Wyllie Esq., H. B. M. Pro-Consul, to present his respects to His Majesty and the respects of Admiral Thomas."

This is followed by pages and pages of entries, among them being numerous lists of officers of various naval vessels who called to pay their respects to the sovereigns.
Among them the following is especially interesting.

"1860. Audience to the Commissioner of the United States to present to the King Captain Hunt and the officers of the U. S. S.
Levant, 5 July, 1860, at 11 a. m.

(Signed)

Wm. E. Hunt, Comdr.
Ed. C. Strut, Lieut.
Richard T. Bowen.
I. J. Gilliam, P. A. Surgeon.
James C. Mosley, Master.
Wm. Bradley, Asst. Surgeon.

This call was paid just previous to the time when the Levant left Honolulu on her last voyage. She started for San Francisco and was never heard of again, although she is believed by many to have struck an unknown island in a portion of the ocean which is out of the way of the general run of vessels.

In Kamehameha the Fourth's audience book the following appears: "February 22, audience by His Majesty of Miss Laura Keane." (Signed) Laura Keane.

Miss Keane was one of the most celebrated actresses of the day, who played in Ford's Theater during the performance at which Lincoln was shot.

Later on, on April 12, 1864, the signature of Lord Charles Beresford, the celebrated British Admiral, who is now in charge of the Mediterranean squadron, appears as follows: "Charles Beresford, Mid'n." At that time Beresford was a jolly midshipman, whose adventures and pranks here are still remembered by old residents.

Under the date of Sept. 25, 1872, appear the signatures of the Princes Augustus and Philip of Saxe Coburg Gotha.

After this, on the next page, is the following solemn entry:

"Lot Kamehameha, born Dec.
11th, 1830. Ascended this throne November 30, 1863. Died Dec. 11th, at 20 m. past 10 a. m. 1872 at Iolani Palace, and his remains laid in the Royal Tomb, in Nuuanu Valley, Jany. 11, 1873."

"William C. Lunalilo, elected King January 8th, 1873, and inaugurated at the Stone Church, Jany. 6, 1873, as King Lunalilo.
He was elected by the unanimous vote of both Houses of Parliament."

(Signed) Henry Prendergast, Chamberlain.

In another volume appears the signature of S. L. Clemons, better known as Mark Twain, the incomparable humorist.

Some of the old books are very worm eaten and delapidated and had it not been for Lydecker's timely discovery these valuable and interesting documents would in a few years have been reduced to dust by the tooth of time.

GETS AFTER THE DOCTORS.

HONOLULU, Oct. 17.—The issue between the doctors and the Territory in the matter of physicians securing licenses is to be tested. A test case was begun this morning when the name of Dr. J.
T. McDonald appeared on the police court calendar. He was served with a penal summons which read as follows:

"That one, Dr. J. T. McDonald, did at Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, during one month last past, prior to and including the 6th day of October, 1905, violate Section 1068 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii (as amended by Act 48 of the Session Laws of 1905), for that he did at such time and place practise medicine and surgery without having first obtained from the Treasurer of the Territory of Hawaii a license so to do."

This law which he is charged with disregarding was passed at the session of the last legislature. The doctors have resisted the law and it had been decided to bring the test case. The case will probably be called again this afternoon. A de-murrer will probably be filed and the matter taken to the upper court.

TO CELEBRATE ARBOR DAY

HONOLULU, Oct. 13.—Arbor Day is to be celebrated in Hawaii on the first Friday in November as has already been announced and to-day the Department of Public Instruction has been busy sending out the official copies of the Governor's proclamation to the different school principals, accompanied by the following circular letter:

"The Rules and Regulations of the Department designate the first Friday of November as Arbor Day.
"The day is to be celebrated on the school grounds with tree-planting and appropriate exercises.

"Trees may be secured by addressing Mr. David M. Haughs, Government Nursery, Honolulu.

"The Department of Public Instruction will pay freight on all such tree.

JAMES C. Davis,

"Superintendent of Public Instruction.

"Arbor Day was instituted in Nebraska in 1875 and Ohio was next in 1882. Fred Davis this morning. "Kansas following in 1875 and Ohio was next in 1882. From that time on every state in the union with the exception of Louisiana has come into the celebration of the day.

Alaska and Indian Territory have no Arbor Day."

Following is a sample program drawn up for the celebration of the day in Hawaii:

1. Song "Planting a Tree."
2. Reading of Arbor Day Proclamation.
3. Story of Arbor Day, Its Origin and Purposes.
4. Song.
5. Recitation.
6. Directions for Planting and Caring for Trees.
7. Value and Properties of Trees.
8. National Anthem.

WOULD KILL TO END PAIN.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.— Miss Helen Hall of Cincinnati for hours today vainly endeavored to have the American Humane Association place the seal of its indorsement on the proposition to put an end by the use of anaesthetics to the lives of persons hopelessly injured or lying in agonizing death throes from disease.

While pleading with the society to take this up as part of its work she graphically portrayed the torture of an engineer in a wreck, pinned underneath a ponderous engine while the flames were slowly roasting him. She said that she asked for just the same mercy that is extended to a wounded animal without question—a quick end to its sufferings.

Miss Hall added: "For the past two years I have always carried a vial of chloroform with me when riding on trains for use in case of emergency, as I was brought to consider this subject through this horrible experience."

Supporting Miss Hall's proposition, which was ruled out by Chairman Dr. William O. Stillman of Albany on the ground that the articles of incorporation of the society confined its operation to cases of cruelty to animals or children, Mrs. M. Totten of Washington, one of the founders of the organization, warmly exclaimed:
"If I were in a wreck and saw cases such as have been described and had a pistol, I would certainly shoot the sufferer to put him out misery." The Convention decided with Stillman.
